Senator Pat Harrison Sweeps State By 63,000 Majority

SENATOR PAT HARRISON'S VOTE IN HOME COUNTY REVEALS NO SURPRISES

Carries Harrison County By a Vote of Nearly Two to One—Pass Christian Bilbo's Stronghold, gives Pat Harrison 232 Votes Against 292.

Gulfport, Miss., August 26.—Senator Pat Harrison carried his home county of Harrison by a vote of nearly two to one Tuesday, piling up a total of 4394 to Conner's 2230, according to unofficial returns from 30 of the county's 32 precincts. The two missing boxes, Finley and White Plains have a possible voting strength of about 100. Harper, third man, in the senatorial race, polled only 38 votes in Harrison county.

Congressman W. M. Colmer beat both his opponents in Harrison county, home county of R. Hart Chinn, receiving a total of 3879 to Chinn's 2372 and Easterling's 233. He beat Chinn by more than 1500 votes in the latter's home county, according to returns from 29 of the 32 voting precincts of the county.

In the South Gulfport box, where Senator Harrison casts his ballot, former Governor Conner received only 91 votes as against 544 for Senator Harrison.

In the three Gulfport precincts, Senator Harrison polled a total vote of 1531 to 521 for Conner. Harper got only 8 votes in the City of Gulfport.

The four precincts in the City of Bilbo gave Senator Harrison 1427 as against 743 for Mike Conner.

H. GRADY PERKINS, CITY COMMISSIONER, ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION

H. GRADY PERKINS
Head of City Department of Public Utilities, formally announces his candidacy for re-election. He is secretary to the Board as well and an efficient official.

PERKINS ANNOUNCES FOR OFFICE

City Commissioner Seeks to Succeed Self After a Record of Fine Service

Announcing his candidacy for re-election, formal announcement of City Commissioner H. Grady Perkins will be found in this issue of The Echo.

Commissioner Perkins has "Made good." He has served the people in a most business-like and efficient manner—one and all alike. His uniform courtesy and ever willingness to serve has been a matter of complimentary comment. This commendation he has well earned. He has given the office his full attention and it has ever been his aim, in which he has succeeded, to give every person calling at the city hall individual and special attention.

It must be said to his credit that this cordial manner has been worth a whole lot. The public has no hesitancy calling at the City Hall. They know that Commissioner Perkins, as well as his associates, are ever ready to serve. And that nothing is of too much trouble.

In addition to attending to the executive and other duties instrumental to the administration of his department, as commissioner of public utility, he finds time to do all of the detail work whereas formerly it was necessary to have a stenographer-clerk paid $300.00 per annum additionally. He installed a thorough yet simple system in the office that enables him to get in touch with document and records of his office. This facilitates matters to considerable extent. A caller at the office, regardless of what he may wish, is immediately served. If certain information is wished, it is not long in forthcoming.

It is this kind of system and manner of work that make men in public life of more than ordinary value. It means for economy—for efficiency—always spells economy.

Commissioner Perkins is endowed with native ability and this with his academic training makes for a desired combination.

Commissioner Perkins is a man of the people. Thoroughly democratic, he knows every one, their position and condition. He is of a sympathetic nature and always willing to assist personally as well as officially.

Son of the late R. P. Perkins, industrialist of Hancock who developed the naval stores resources of the county, he inherits the fine business ability of his progenitor. Possessor of both a common and college education, first attending Bay St. Louis schools, he is well fitted for the discharge of the duties of the office that demands so much training and experience.

Patrons of the City Hall, living away, frequently comment favorably on the manner in which the affairs of the city are run in the most thorough like manner. A letter received today is answered today and not merely a formal acknowledgment but one that gives not only the essentials that a reply may require but fully in matters that might be related to the subject concerned.

People living away, inquiring of different matters receive the same consideration and the fullest attention is given. This reflects well for the city and is an evidence that the official and his associates are on the job.

Locally Commissioner Perkins is well known. He is a most likable fellow; of genial and engaging manner. Of that fine type of Southern (Continued on page 6)

SENIOR SENATOR OF MISSISSIPPI WHO OUT-DISTANCED EX-GOV.

B. PAT HARRISON
Swept Mississippi by an avalanche of votes over his competitor, Ex-Gov. Conner, and his opponent, Senator Bilbo, in the race for re-election for six-year term.

"Glorious Victory" Says Pat Harrison Commenting on Result

Harrison witnessed his victory sweep from his Gulf Coast home. "The result of the election is even better than I anticipated," he said. "It is a glorious victory and my heart goes out to every man and woman in Mississippi who assisted in making this victory so complete."

Among the first to phone Senator Harrison congratulations was President Roosevelt. As chairman of the finance committee, Harrison has jointly directed administration measures with floor leader Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas.

The Roosevelt administration lent its support to Harrison, but the Deal was not a primary issue in the campaign.

Conner pledged his support to the president if elected, and Senator Bilbo reiterated his new deal affiliations. The election leaves Mississippi's senators at cross-purposes. Bilbo split with Harrison several months ago over the appointment of Judge Edwin R. Holmes to the United States circuit court of appeals, and the bitter campaign just ended only served to widen the breach between the two.

Conner's vote fell far short of the approximate 160,000 he polled five years ago in winning the governorship of Mississippi.

Carries Only Two Counties.

As carried only two of the 82 counties, one being Covington, his home county. There he led Harrison 1286 to 867. He had a 250-vote lead in Benton.

Harrison polled surprisingly big majorities in northeast Mississippi considered strong Conner-Bilbo territory. He also polled up a heavy lead in the Delta and in South Mississippi.

Harrison will not be opposed in the November general election.

He returns to the upper chamber to serve a fourth term, being first elected in 1918 when he stepped from the House by defeating James K. Vardaman.

He was not troubled with serious opposition in 1924 and 1930.

For a quarter of a century he has been known as the "party wheel-horse," and during Republican administrations was termed the Democratic "gadfly" for his satiric drubs in chiding the opposition.

Climb of Achievement

His climb on the political ladder began with his election as district attorney in 1905. From that post he jumped to a seat in the House of Representatives in 1911 and has been in Congress continuously since.

After finishing college he played professional baseball for a while before taking up the practice of law. His devotion to the national pastime

ANNOUNCES FOR OFFICE, BAY CITY

City Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois Seeks Re-Election on Official Record

City Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois is formally announced in this issue of The Echo, official journal of Bay St. Louis, as a candidate for re-election. Having served the city and its best interest to the fullest and best of his ability he again asks recognition on the face of his official record. Nothing could be fairer; there could be no better test and the unanimous acclaim will be, you have been a faithful servant to the public, tried in the balance and not found wanting. We judge men by what they have accomplished rather than what they promise to do. In this instance there is no better attestation of Mr. Bourgeois' ability to do and a manifestation of his splendid past.

And an additional augury for retaining the services of Commissioner Bourgeois in addition to his thorough efficiency, it has repeatedly been said that no man in office has ever served over so long a period of hours per day. Frequently there at breakfast time and there late in the evening—as long as he felt his presence was required for the prompt expedition of his work.

There are no fancy offices and unnecessary frills with him; no placard on his office door, "From 9 to 12 and from 2 to 5." Just like the working man that he is, from 12 till after dinner. He carries long hours not because it takes that long to do his work, but solely for the accommodation of the public. They always come first. Their convenience is always regarded.

To render a service nothing is of too much trouble; nothing requires too long a time. He is like the successful merchant, the customer is always right. A telephone or personal call will always find him ready to serve—regardless what it may be. It is seldom we find a public official so unselfishly and prodigiously giving of his time.

A feature of Commissioner Bourgeois' office is found in the fact he keeps a perfect system of record. Records are not only complete in detail but kept in such manner as to make them easily accessible.

Acquainted With Reality Values.

As tax-collector he is city assessor or as well. He knows every nook and corner in Bay St. Louis, and his knowledge of valuations is an asset to the office. The public likes to do business with him in his official capacity—he co-operates with the tax-payers in every manner conceivable, thus, in a measure, making it a pleasure, in addition to the duty so doing, to pay the annual or quarterly stipend, whatever it may happen to be. The city, without (Continued on page 6)

HISTORICAL RESEARCH PROJECT FOR HANCOCK OF MATERIAL INTEREST

Furnishes Employment to Unemployed Women—Will Have Lasting Value—What Is It?—Why Is It? Where Is It?

W. L. BOURGEOIS IS ANNOUNCED FOR CITY COMMISSIONER

W. L. BOURGEOIS
Present City Commissioner, Department of Finance and Tax-Collector, who is successfully serving his first term.

INTRODUCTION OF SENATOR HARRISON BY COL. LEO W. SEAL

A member of Gov. White's staff, chairman of the Hancock County Democratic Committee, and a leading citizen, Hon. Leo W. Seal had the honor and privilege of introducing Senator Pat Harrison on the occasion of his public address in Bay St. Louis, at St. Stanislaus college grounds, Monday noon. It is a fine and deserved tribute and The Echo herewith reproduces it in full.

Fellow Citizens, Ladies and Gentlemen:—

It is with profound sense of privilege that I present to you on this occasion a Mississippian so distinguished that his introduction is not required in any part of the American Union. His magnificent record, his high and influential position in our national life causes his name and personality to be familiar to every informed American citizen.

We are honored in having him as our guest today. We are especially favored with the opportunity of having him address us on subjects of state and national importance. But beyond all that we have the genuine pleasure of welcoming him home to the scenes of his early ambitions and the early efforts that overshadowed the fame and the credit later to be his, and to be ours through him. While in a broad sense all of Mississippi is his home and other regions of the state claim his birth, it is here on the coast of Mississippi that his career began, later to be crowned with signal success. Here he has many warm and intimate friends.

It is neither necessary nor proper for me to review for you the facts of his private and public life that have been widely known for so many years the benefits his service has conferred upon Mississippi and the American people; his influence for the good in our national councils; the power that Mississippi enjoys through his seniority of service in the United States Senate; the friendship and trust existing between him and our revered President. These are matters so familiar to all Mississippians that it seems incredible that even self interest can be so headlong or malice so blind that one may be found to assault his patriotism or his integrity.

Without more, my friends, I am deeply honored in being able to present to you our guest and speaker, Mississippi's admired and beloved Pat Harrison, who will now address you.

The Historical Research Project set up in Hancock County less than a year ago has gained the interest of some, some are indifferent and some are unaware of its existence.

This project outside of its material objective, that of furnishing employment to unemployed women, has a very important and aesthetic reason for being.

We might face you with this question: Is it of importance to you to leave for coming generations a history of the county and city in which they were born and where you have spent the greater portion of your life? This project is trying to do just that.

This may be leaving for your child the story of your own life, your part in some industry, or your contribution to the literature, music, art, education or civic interest of your county. Then do not say, "Why write it?" but say "Why not write it?"

This work is the collection of data concerning everything about the county that is traditional for after all tradition is history.

We do not think that we are extravagant in the choice of words when we say that it is tragic what disconnected and incomplete records we find. Have you the missing link? Have you data that will give color and interest to our history? If so as you read this article resolve to put the office in touch with this information.

Indians have roamed your forests, pioneers have suffered great hardships but the thrilling stories which should be written cannot be written because authentic data is lacking.

What do you know of the outlaw days of your country? Tell us where we can find more about this period. Your industries have expanded, your schools have become far-reaching, your churches have grown throughout the years, but back of all this the foundations that were laid for these institutions have evidently been of little importance as practically few records have been found.

There have lived in your country men who were makers of industry and donors of lands for public use where most needed and their biographies cannot be written in their entirety because the information is lacking. The work of finding these records is the ultimate aim of our project and your concern is not that it is a state wide project but that it is your project. You are a vital source of information for the compilation of the history. Does it mean this to you?

The local office is situated in the City Hall where there is always someone to receive you and whose pleasure it is to show you the work that is being done and to take from you any leads of first hand information that you may have to offer. Our staff appreciates beyond expression cooperation that has been given, the information that has been given, the books that have been loaned but, like Oliver Twist, we are crying for more. Come in to see us, call us up, pass on to us what you know and make your history one of the best if not the best of the eighty-two being written.

BAY BOY SCOUT CAMP

Boys of Troop 217, Catholic Boy Scouts of Bay St. Louis Camp at Fenton

Members of Troop 217, Catholic Boy Scouts, spent part of the week in camping on the banks of Bayou Laterre, Fenton, on premises adjacent to that of Mr. George Cuevas, resident, who showed the boys every consideration possible.

The outing was a success in every particular and the scouts are highly elated over the fine time. Gentlemen from Bay St. Louis from time to time visited, remained over night and chaperoned the boys, guiding them in their recreational activities. The spot was an ideal one and no other location could have proven more advantageous.

Russell Maurigi of Bay St. Louis added to the pleasure and comfort of the scouts, cooking their meals and doing all possible for their pleasure.

Scouts participating in this camp included the following named: Fred Fayard, Joe Colson, W. Buehler, Geo. Cuevas, James Ryan, Thomas Gordon, E. J. Arceneaux, J. T. Jacobs, W. J. Phillips, Albert Biehl, Russell Elliott, W. Polson, F. Chiniche, Lukey Benigno, Frank Taconi, Wm. Morrales, H. Style Show At Uncle Charlie's Nite Club Postponed to Later

Style Show at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, advertised to be given on the evening of Tuesday, September 1, has been postponed to a date to be announced later, due to circumstances over which the management has no control.

Considerable interest is manifested in the forthcoming event and Uncle Charlie Breath says it will be of the interesting and successful events of the year at his place.

There are many entries and seasonable dresses will be displayed, sport, formal and otherwise.

Annual Songfest At Gulfside, Waveland, This Sunday at 4 P. M.

Gulfside, well-known recreational center for the colored race at Waveland, will present their annual songfest this coming Sunday, August 30, 4 o'clock. This event attracts a large assembly, representing various sections of three states.

Bishop R. E. Jones extends a special invitation to all friends to attend this songfest, composed of hundreds of voices, a program the like of which is presented nowhere else. There is no admission charge. The invitation is most cordial and your presence will not only be appreciated by the band of constructive workers seeking to do, but the pleasure of the afternoon will be a well worthy recompense, if we are to judge by the program of the past years.

The time is 4 o'clock—Sunday. Special seats and reservations for white people.

ALPHA CLASS AT S. J. A.

As announced previously an Alpha Class for boys and girls between the ages of 4 and 6 will be introduced at St. Joseph Academy this coming session.

This announcement will no doubt prove to be an ideal boon to busy mothers, giving them a breathing spell while their youngsters are under the maternal care of the Sisters. But this is, by no means, the biggest advantage of said class. Psychologists agree that while the child before the age of 6 is still too immature for the regular grind of school work, yet there are hosts of interesting facts which he may gather in a very pleasurable manner. This is what the Alpha Class aims to accomplish.

Those interested please register no later than August 28 and 29.

LOCAL INDUSTRY.

IT IS with much pride we point to the success of the local industry, Bay Canning Company, now employing many laborers in the process of canning shrimp. Soon the oyster season will follow, thus insuring local workers a long season of steady work.

Each morning it is music to hear the soft whistle calling labor and as many who apply employment is given.

To Randolph J. Ladner and others who made this industry possible to be located in our city; to give employment for the bigger portion of the year; to make possible a flow of money paid laborers that would never enter local trade channels, a lasting credit is due.

It is our chief industry, giving the greatest number of people something to do; making for a payroll and advertising our city as each and every label covering cans carry the printed name, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Our people should co-operate with the Bay Canning Company in every manner possible and we know they do.

DROUGHT VICTIMS AND RELIEF.

ESTIMATES that 2,000,000 persons on farms and in rural communities will require relief this winter emphasizes the extent of the drought's effects in many American States.

To give assistance to so many people will take a lot of money and the question is, where will it come from? Accepting the drought as a natural disaster, in the same sense that cyclones and earthquakes are natural disasters, presupposes that the American people, as a whole, will want to extend aid to the victims of the tragic dry spell.

We are not much concerned with the source of the money. Whether it comes from the Federal government, as a strong central government able to care for its afflicted people, or whether it comes from the treasuries of individual States, guarding their rights and assuming their burdens, is not a matter of much concern to us. What is important is that undue suffering be avoided and that families be aided to pull through an era of misfortune.

FOR ENHANCEMENT OF REALTY VALUES.

NEW ORLEANS' slogan, clean-up and beauty, might well be applied to other communities not quite as large as that city and to advantage.

It is well to clean-up. It means for sanitation and safety. And to paint, repair and otherwise beautify one's premises has another sustaining value than the mere aesthetic.

We find property well taken care of means for better realty value. Nothing will so rebound to values, and if for no other selfish reason it is well we follow the example of New Orleans. A public campaign is not necessary. It is rather a reflection on the individual.

Let each person delegate unto himself a committee of one to beautify and to make for a better city.

It will pay handsome dividends.

THE DIGEST POLL UNDERWAY.

ONCE again the Literary Digest announces its famous poll to ascertain the sentiment of voters in the United States and to anticipate, if possible, the results of the election to be held in November.

The magazine's past efforts along this line have been remarkably successful, although commentators point out that each of the last three presidential elections have been determined by an overwhelming sentiment and that no close election has been accurately forecast.

One of the novel features this year is the fact that results of the poll will be announced three nights a week over the radio for nine weeks, beginning September 2nd.

JUNIPER GROVE REPUDIATES BILBO

Pearl River county, home of Senator Bilbo, went to Senator Harrison by a vote of 1527 to 1020, with only one small precinct missing. In Pearl River county, the home precinct of Senator Bilbo, Juniper Grove, went for Harrison by a margin of 16 votes. The Bilbo dream home is located in the midst of this precinct and Bilbo has 29 qualified voters on his place, out of a total of 90 votes cast in the precinct. The balloting incidentally, was done in Juniper Grove church, built by Bilbo just across the highway from the dream home, in which Bilbo has preached several sermons.

TWO OUT OF EIGHTY-TWO.

CONNER-BILBO carried only two counties out of eighty-two, Benton 700 to 440 and Seminary (Conner's home county), Covington 1,415 to 1,243. Bilbo's home county, Pearl River, gave Harrison 1,527 to 1,020. The Pica-yune item predicted long ago Bilbo would not carry his home county. The prediction proved correct.

Once upon a time there was a newspaper editor who believed that every subscriber promptly renewed his subscription. It was all right—until he woke up.

PAT HARRISON'S ENDORSEMENT

HUNDREDS of editorials will be written and published this week over Mississippi following Tuesday's election and the results that give Senator Pat B. Harrison a sweeping victory. His opponent, Former Governor Conner, for whom Senator Bilbo predicted a majority from 60,000 to 75,000 votes did not poll that much as a whole.

Harrison's election was quite a victory, definitely, and is assuring for the future.

No comment is necessary. The smashing victory of our beloved Pat is an answer to the unfair and malicious campaign that was waged against one of the best and finest men who ever lived. One of character and who would not stoop to the low level of Bilbo's methods. A campaign of spite, hatred and animosity. It was one of personal grudge. And Mississippians would not stand for it.

Senator Harrison has a fine record in Congress. And his re-election overwhelmingly is an endorsement. And of Roosevelt's New Deal as well.

No editorials are necessary. The record speaks for itself. Senator Harrison has been vindicated from the false charges that could only emanate from a dirty campaign.

One Term Senator Bilbo is politically dead. He died after he entered the Senate and was found wanting.

Former Governor Conner could not have defeated Senator Harrison. But it was a mistake when he permitted Senator Harrison's colleague to enter the race to encompass his (Harrison's) defeat. A liability rather than an asset.

To say the least, it was far from ethical. Bilbo is dead!

LABOR DAY WEEK-END AND THE GULF COAST

LABOR DAY occurring September 7 gives the Gulf Coast a season of activity of several days longer. It is generally conceded the summer season on the Coast comes to a close in appreciable extent with Labor Day Week-end. This is due to opening of schools and the beginning of a season when the thought back home is uppermost for the hot term has about spent itself and one must deal in thoughts of fall and winter.

There is every reason to believe the Labor Day Week-end is going to be the biggest in the history of the Mississippi Gulf Coast regarding the number of people that will visit for that period.

Fourth of July week-end was the biggest yet. But it will pale into insignificance by comparison.

There are more reasons than one for this. We have better roadways leading to the Coast from New Orleans and other Louisiana points, the Shortcut is opened and in use and there are more attractions hither then ever, to say nothing of the fact conditions are better.

We are Nomadians by nature. We love to roam, to visit to get away from the humdrum of every day life. And when such alluring invitations to come to the Gulf Coast are compelling, there is naught else to do but to listen to that impulse.

We hope the thousands who will visit here for Labor Day holidays will be favored with good weather and with every other influence that will go to make their stay enjoyable to the utmost. Our invitation is, Come often and stay as long as possible.

NO MAN TOO BIG FOR MISSISSIPPI

SENATOR Harrison's tremendous majority in Tuesday's election over organized opposition signals a victory for the New Deal, an endorsement of the policies of the President.

The Senior Senator from Mississippi has worked hand in hand with the President and no man in the country comes second to the Chief Executive than our own Pat.

Tremendous will be the effect over the country in behalf of President Roosevelt's re-election by Senator Harrison's success. No doubt he will stump the country later in the season for the Democratic nominee and will be received wherever he may go as an outstanding national figure.

Mississippi is justly proud of this signal honor. During the campaign malicious gossip had it that Pat Harrison was too big a man for Mississippi. In fact, it was said from the speaker's stand at various points over the state by the opposition.

There cannot be any man too big for Mississippi. Mr. Harrison reiterated the statement in Bay St. Louis Monday, during his address, that George, Walthall, Lamar, McLaurin, Vardaman, John Sharp Williams, and the men before them, including Jefferson Davis, were not too big for Mississippi. And they were giants.

There cannot be any man too big for a State that has been represented by a galaxy of men whose names will live in the annals of the nation.

The truth is Senator Harrison emerges from this campaign a bigger man than ever.

ABOUT FACING WORLD FACTS.

IT TOUGHT to be apparent by this time, even to those people who believe that we live in a world of kindness, that there are nations in the world ready to use military and naval force to get what they want.

A fact, obvious to many, is that the nation without an adequate means of defense, is inviting the same treatment that was given to Ethiopia and is hanging over the heads of the Chinese.

With this much information at hand it appears that the United States should be prepared to take care of any nation that might cast an eye on our shores. Moreover, if she possesses vital interests anywhere in the world she must consider defending them.

Another step must be considered. If the interests of the United States and the interests of other nations, anywhere in the world, are identical and threatened from the same source, then common sense would suggest some form of cooperative action in the face of the danger.

Mussolini seems ready to use the Italian military machine as a threat any day there is an opportunity to grab something. One of these days he will catch a bear by the tail.

River at Lowest Stage on Record Near Memphis

Memphis, Tenn.—The Mississippi river Monday stood at its lowest level here in 11 years.

The gauge showed .1 foot above zero level, the lowest reading since Sept. 15, 1923, when it was .6 feet below zero.

With the "father of waters" at such a low stage, shippers were having their difficulties, and the U. S. district engineers kept dredge-boats working at top speed.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

MOVEMENT OF CATHOLIC WOMEN IS MEETING WITH SUCCESS

(Clarion Ledger)

MOVIE fans who like 'em snappy but decent owe a vote of thanks to the Catholics for having started the great Hollywood cleanup.

"Threatened with and actually inflicted with a boycott based upon a demand for decency, the picture makers went into a huddle to see how they could save their bankrolls, no less than their faces.

"As a result the 'producers' own board of review was created and now, before a movie ever flickers across Main Streets talkie palace it has been subjected to a most searching scrutiny.

"Too much liquor is out; so is crime when the criminal comes out on top of The Law. Kidnaping is barred; profanity is prohibited; filthy talk, oversexiness and most of the obviously suggestive wirecracks are in the ashcan.

"Believing, and correctly so, that motion pictures exert a powerful influence over persons of all ages, colors and stations in life, the Catholics united to lift the level of the silver sheet. They did!"

The above editorial is from the Vicksburg Post. The clean-minded people of every faith quickly joined the Catholic forces in the laudable effort to stem the tide of rottenness that was sweeping moving picture production on. That tide was checked and now there is a growing tendency upward. And strange as it may seem to some, the cleaner and better pictures are drawing the largest crowds in every section of the country.

BANKS OF STATE IN FINE SHAPE

(West Point Times Leader)

MISSISSIPPIANS now have $43,000,000 more on deposit than they had a year ago, according to a recent report of the State Banking department.

During past year state bank deposits increased 18 per cent, while there was a 42 per cent increase in cash and sight exchange.

Condition of 182 state banks with 22 branches as of June 30, 1936, compared with 187 state banks as of comparative date for 1935, show:

Cash and sight exchange, $38,127,680.03, increase of 42 per cent; stocks, bonds and securities, including United States State bonds, $40,080,479.75, increase of 19 per cent; loans and discounts, $38,900,184.57, decrease of 5 per cent.

The ratio of "quick assets," to deposits is 75 per cent plus, compared with 73 per cent on June 30, 1935.

These figures show Mississippi banks are in the best possible condition.

They also show, by the huge increase in deposits, that the people of Mississippi are, in most instances, well prepared for the proverbial "rainy day."

Legitimate business demands can be met with ease by Mississippi's banks. It is no longer necessary to seek outside capital.

On the whole, the banking situation indicates better times for each and all.

A TELEGRAM—THE ANSWER

(Jackson Daily News)

THE editor of The Literary Digest sends this telegram to the editor of the Daily News:

Please wire fifty words, press rate collect, your comment on Landon's West Middlesex speech or on Landon's Eastern trip generally.

The prompt reply was: Nothing that Landon says on any subject is worth saying or hearing.

It is not likely that reply will be printed. Even its terseness may not appeal to Editor Savell who sorely afflicts hard-working editors with his questionnaires and never pays a nickel for answering.

No longer do editors feel they are honored when quoted in The Literary Digest. That's the cheapest form of fame.

Real editors don't want fame, anyhow. They only ask to be left alone while doing their work.

NEW JOBS VS. LOWER TAXES

(Yazoo City Sentinel)

WE hear much said along the line that the crying need of the country is less government and cheaper government but there is not a session of any legislature that does not have its harvest of new laws and new expenses. While every one talks of lower taxes everyone works to increase taxes.

A new tax, a gas tax or an income tax levied, and immediately a new crowd is put on the pay roll. It isn't long until the new levy is used up and a deficit is created. Then another new levy is worked out and the vicious never ending circle is begun again.

The best way to reduce taxes is to refuse to credit new jobs that call for tax money and abolish a lot of jobs that have been created merely to reward some political worker. All the talking that is done in a million years won't reduce taxes as much as the abolishment of a collection of useless jobs.

The ratio of "quick assets," to deposits is 75 per cent plus, compared with 73 per cent on June 30, 1935.

Mineral Lease Commission few days ago closed a contract with

Mr. Owen for the boring of the three wells on the old insane asylum property—3 gas wells and one in which a deep test will be made for oil. It is understood if oil is not found in this well it will be plugged back and developed into a gas well. The contract for the four wells is for $265,000, three wells to a depth of 2500 feet for gas, and one to 5500 feet deeper for oil. The derricks for the first well has already been erected and work will commence this week. It is understood that when the first well comes in, the gas from this well will be used for fuel in smoking the other three. When asked as to approximate output of the three gas wells, (figuring the state will secure an oil well in the fourth well), Mr. Toler, State Oil and Gas Supervisor, estimated that each well would have a selling capacity of 200 million feet of gas per year, which valued at the price of not less than 4c per thousand cubic feet would net about $3,000 annually, or $24,000 for the three wells. If the state is successful in bringing in three or four gas wells, the gas can be sold on the open market at a profitable price to the state.

M. D. Brett, state bank comptroller, is authority for the statement that from March 4th 1933, the date of President Roosevelt's bank moratorium, until June 30, 1936, the state banks of Mississippi had increased their deposits in the aggregate of thirty-two million dollars. This is a clear index of the improved financial condition of the state in the past three years. Proportionate to this increase in the deposits of state banks and 22 branches a total of 204 banking institutions, it is estimated that there is an average increase of nearly $157,000 to each bank. During the past year there has been an 8 per cent increase in deposits, and 42 per cent increase in cash and sight exchange, according

Mr. Brett. In other words, one-half of the increase realized from March 4, 1933 to June 30th, 1936, occurred during the past year. Other increases given by the Comptroller, cash and sight exchange $38,000,000; stocks, bonds and securities, including U. S. Bonds, $40,000,000; demand deposits $48,000,000; public deposits $21,500,000; savings deposits $35,000,000; total deposits, and classes, $105,000,000, in round numbers.

Hancock County's Dem. Agent Tells How To Register

Since there is such abundant supply of pears in this section and they help supply needed food stuff in the diet, I am giving a few ways that they might be preserved.

Recipes for other ways of preserving pears may be obtained in the assistant home demonstration agent's office.

Preservation of Pears

For canning or preserving, pears should be allowed to ripen. Bruised ones should be used at once for pickles, marmalades, jam, or mince meat.

Canned Pears

Make a medium syrup (1 cup sugar to 1 cup water). Let the syrup come to a boil, then drop in the pears which have been peeled and halved. Boil gently in syrup until tender—15 to 25 minutes for sand pears—depending upon the firmness of the fruit. Pack carefully into clean, hot glass jars; fill to overflowing with hot syrup and seal tightly at once. 1 tablespoon white vinegar added to each quart improves the flavor of this pear. Pears may be colored by using fruit coloring in the syrup. (Tin may be used.)

Pear Preserves

1 quart pears
2 cups water
3 1/4 of 4 cups sugar
1 lemon sliced thin

pare the pears and cut into halves or quarters; small pears may be left whole. Prepare the syrup, add the pears and sliced lemon. Cook until they are clear and transparent.

and until the syrup is of a thick consistency. Pour into hot, sterilized glass jars and seal tightly at once. If hard pears are used, they should be cooked in clear water until tender, and the water in which they are cooked should be used in making the syrup. A few cloves or stick of cinnamon is sometimes added for flavor.

Pear Ralish

6 lbs. ground pears
1 pint vinegar
2 teaspoons celery seed
1½ teaspoon salt
12 small white onions
8 bell peppers or 12 small ones
2 teaspoons mustard seed
2 hot peppers

Cook slowly 1 hour (boiling).

SENATOR HARRISON'S CAMPAIGN ADDRESS ON OCCASION OF LOCAL VISIT

Paid Tribute to Hancock County and Its Almost Solid Stand For Him—Answers Some of His Critics—Told Service Men of His Service Substitute Bill That Got Them the Money.

Hon. Pat Harrison, United States senator, visited Bay St. Louis Monday noon in the interest of his candidacy for re-election. Holding the high position he does, nationally prominent, he was a guest of honor and a large crowd assembled to pay him tribute and to hear the address.

The scene of speaking was the yard of St. Stanislaus College. Here, under wide-spreading oaks, where a substantial platform and speakers stand had been built for the occasion, he addressed the crowd. Hon. Emile J. Gex was master of ceremony while to Col. Leo W. Seal, of Bay St. Louis, fell the distinguished honor of formally introducing Senator Harrison. The introduction was well worthy of the occasion and not only for the news value and for record sake, it is reproduced in its entirety elsewhere in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo in order that it may be kept by many in appreciation of so fine an introduction and the memorable occasion.

The campaign over, the address no longer becomes a campaign document nor will it carry the interest it would prior to Tuesday's election. But for record sake and in order it may be embodied in the files of The Echo, now extending over a period of forty-three years, it is here chronicled, not verbatim but the high spots and the meat of the address.

Having a limited time Senator Harrison plunged into his address without undue verbiage, necessarily hastening to his next speaking engagement at Pass Christian, thanking Col. Seal for the splendid introduction. He said he had delivered over 100 addresses in 75 counties, and "I thought it was appropriate on the last day of the campaign to come back to the home counties who took me up when I was a young fellow 24 years of age and put me in the District Attorney's Office."

Senator Harrison stated that he had never been in a campaign where such misrepresentations had been made. That some little puny politicians had been going around before he came down to make his campaign, saying that he would never be physically able to make the campaign, they reporting that he had suffered a paralytic stroke, when in reality he had suffered a sinus attack.

He said the paralytic stroke would come tomorrow night to his opponents after the votes were counted. He referred to the sales tax inaugurated by his opponent when Governor; that the poor were subjected to the same imposition that the rich were subjected to. That the little square hole in the metal token would be of sufficient size tomorrow night to admit of Conner going thru in physical form because he would grow smaller and smaller and shrink to the size that would admit him going thru the little square hole, after the votes would be counted.

He quoted from a telegram sent by Bilbo to Conner to the effect that he (Bilbo) knew all along that Conner had nothing to do with securing any large sums of Federal funds that had been expended for relief in Mississippi and in obtaining money for the support of the public schools; that the facts are that he has been at cross purpose with politics of the Roosevelt administration from the very start, and that he tried to defeat the nomination of President Roosevelt at the Democratic convention.

He said: You know what kind of District Attorney I made in this county for five and a half years; I see men here present who sat on juries. You know whether there has been anything against my character. Good people, for thirty-two years I have been in public life in your state but never until this campaign has anything been said against my character. I have tried from a little Sunday school boy to mould a character that was unassailable, and here it is now when I have a standing in this country that these two opponents try to tear it down. What has Conner said about Bilbo, I heard him say: "You ladies can retire now, I am going to begin to skin a skunk."

He again referred that Bilbo had changed him with playing golf; he said he does occasionally play golf on Saturday afternoons on the advice of his physician; he was told that being so much in his office it would be necessary to take some form of out-door exercise; he then called attention to the fact that Bilbo had built a golf course adjacent to his "Dream House" and that with WPA funds. He told the ex-service men that it was the bill that was substituted for the House Bill that authorized the payment of the bonus. He said he had gone to the President with a draft of this bill and he was assured that it was the kind that the President would sign, this he said is the bill that passed and made it possible for the ex-service men to receive their money as early as they did. He said he had never uttered an unkind word in reference to Bilbo and he could not understand why he was the target of such malicious attacks. The truth was, he said, as already stated, he did nothing but actual kindness when Bilbo said his finances were at low ebb during the depression. He said the ingratitude of Bilbo made him feel like the little boy in the story who had received a pair of cheap brogan shoes while the three other children of the family by a second marriage had received the very best of Boston made shoes. Asking the little brogan shoe-boy, who was apparently displeased, if the shoes hurt him, the little fellow replied: "No, daddy, the shoes do not hurt, but I am hurt at heart."

Harrison said that Bilbo could not hurt him in this election but that he was hurt at heart by Bilbo's actions. He referred to the head of the WPA in Mississippi stating that when the time came to select a man for that position that he went to Bilbo and asked him to recommend a man; that Bilbo recommended Rev. Wayne Allison, and that he approved the selection and Rev. Allison was put in. That Rev. Allison had done a good job but would have done a thousand times better if Bilbo had not endeavored to inject politics in the distribution of funds.

That Bilbo stated that the reason he was opposing him was because he had put Judge Holmes on the Circuit Court of Appeals over Bilbo's objection; that the matter was put to a vote in the Senate and that was as we all knew Bilbo received three votes, and Senator Harrison, without making a speech, received 59 votes. He further stated that no Mississippi had ever been on the Circuit Court of Appeals before. He referred to the objection made by Bilbo to Judge Sykes as Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, that when that matter was put to a vote that no other Senator voted with him.

He stated that there had been some talk about the men in Mississippi working on WPA projects receiving less than men doing the same kind of work in Louisiana and Alabama; that that is not a fact; that for the same kind of work in this section, that is Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi, that the same compensation was paid. Of course our men do not get the same pay as they do in New York, that is because they are in another district, and that is the reason why we are getting factories down here.

He said: We never have in Mississippi stood for a dictator and we never will—there is none in Hancock County, and there never will be.

He said in closing that he would be elected by a majority of 50,000 votes and did not concede one county to Conner.

Dead Film Star's Clothes, Rings, and Trinkets Auctioned

Two thousand articles owned by the late John Gilbert, from his masculine wedding rings to his eight-foot wide bed, were offered for sale Monday at Hollywood to the highest bidder.

Traffic jammed about a downtown Hollywood store building as friends, fans and the idly curious thronged to the auction of the romantic film star's effects six months after his death.

There were Gilbert's suits and clothes, which the man who once was his film stand-in said he wanted. Gilbert's fourth wife, Virginia Bruce, desired a bronze statue, which Cedric Gibbons modelled of him. His daughter by his second wife, Leatrice Joy Gilbert, asked for his makeup box and his chess set.

Auctioneer Ben Bail surveyed the $50,000 worth of articles and picked out one he said might inspire the most bids. It was a towel bathrobe, said to have been worn by Greta Garbo after a swimming party at Gilbert's home.

CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM M. COLMER CARRIES BY HEAVY MAJORITY.

WM. M. (BILL) COLMER.

Who defeated both opponents by a veritable landslide. Colmer, received a total vote in Hancock county of 1,473. Chinn, polled a total vote of 367 and Easterling 282. The combined vote in Hancock of the two opponents was 649. Colmer's total vote 1,473—beating his opponents by a majority of 824 votes. Hancock stood well by Colmer, as did the district.

Congressman Colmer Thanks Voters For Their Fine Support

Congressman William M. Colmer Wednesday issued the following statement:

"The almost complete returns from the sixteen counties of the district indicate that our majority will be approximately two and one-half to one over the field. We received a majority of the votes cast in every county, according to the incomplete returns.

"Naturally, this is most gratifying. It is indicative of the fact that the masses of the people of the Sixth Congressional District are appreciative of our efforts. This victory means that the people and not the politicians are still in the saddle. It also reflects that the people of South Mississippi are behind the president and the New Deal.

"We are both appreciative and grateful for the efforts of our friends, to whom rightfully belong the fruits of victory. To these loyal and tireless friends we shall ever be grateful.

"This overwhelming victory and vote of confidence will serve as an incentive for two more years of honest, consecrated, and patriotic service to our people and the country."

UPHOLDS WAGES
It seems to be the policy of relief officials not to force acceptance of jobs where unreasonably low wage rates are offered. The President is apparently convinced that the WPA is needed for some time longer, at least.

MRS. S. HOWARD SYLVESTER PASSES AWAY; LONG ILLNESS

Last Rites Conducted by Pastor First Methodist Church—Born Nov. 22, 1869.

Mrs. Cornelia Annie Colly, wife of the late J. Howard Sylvester, residing on Blue Meadow Road (continuation Main street), passed away peacefully at the family home shortly after midnight Sunday, following an illness of a long time. She had lived a long and peaceful life and passed away as she had lived.

The deceased was a native of Waveland, Miss., born November 22, 1869, and was a daughter of John Colly, native of Baton Rouge, La., and of Elizabeth Kennington Colly, native of Jasper county, Miss.

Mrs. Sylvester was well known. She had long resided in this section, mother of a large family, and had married a son of the late Judge Sylvester of Bay St. Louis, widely known.

Funeral took place Monday evening from the late residence and interment at Cedar Rest Cemetery, with the Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. The last rites were especially marked by the large attendance, many attending from other sections and many beautiful flowers, an attestation of the esteem in which this good woman was held, marked the last resting place.

Surviving are three sons and four daughters, Monroe, Wallace and Milton Sylvester; daughters, Mrs. Clarence Tudury, Mrs. John D. Mollere, Mrs. Gerald Price and Mrs. Alexander Walker, all residents of Bay St. Louis.

The passing away of Mrs. Sylvester brings much sorrow to the wide circle of friends, but consolation is found in the fact she had lived not only a long but a useful life as well.

NO BIG WAR.

Fear of internal trouble is depended upon to keep major European countries from mixing in the Spanish fighting. Meanwhile the United States is doing everything possible to keep out.

The Army has purchased three new planes of a new, fast and secret design, and the Navy, looking to the construction of battleships, considers the return to direct steam propulsion, instead of the electric drive now being used. The idea is to gain a few knots in speed.

ACCLAIM TAYLOR AND LORETTA YOUNG AS FILMS' PERFECT TEAM

Co-Starred in Outstanding Romantic Film, "Private Number" at A. & G. Theater, Sun.-Mon.

What is being acclaimed the screen's "perfect love-team" comes to the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday in the Fox picture, "Private Number." Handsome Robert Taylor and lovely Loretta Young are co-starred and the combination is said to be the outstanding film romantic union since Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell were first cast together.

Taylor and Miss Young certainly seem the perfect love-team. His dark handsomeness and youthful banter are perfect compliments for Loretta's wide-eyed beauty and appeal. And to top it off, "Private Number" is the outstanding romantic hit of the year.

Romance, in fact, is the keynote of "Private Number," although comedy, drama and suspense are also interwoven in the plot.

Taylor and Miss Young are said to reach a new top in romance before the picture concludes with a thrilling climax.

The pictures moves romantically and dramatically towards a stirring conclusion.

As stated, Taylor and Miss Young are perfectly cast. Patsy Kelly is hilarious as a comical chambermaid and Rathbone's performance is a superb piece of villainy. Marjorie Gatenon is also featured.

"Aren't they grand?" "Don't they go well together?" "I like them better than any other pair I've seen." "I hope they are starred together often" and "I'm never going to miss a picture with Bob Taylor and Loretta Young," are just a few of the enthusiastic remarks that were overheard. One ecstatic young girl was heard to sigh, "Ooooh, and when he kisses her!"

"Private Number" was directed by Roy Del Ruth with Raymond Griffith associate producer. The screen story was written by Gene Markey and William Conselman, based on a play by Cleves Kinkaid.

State Tax Tokens Found in Pockets Of Mishap Victim

Efforts were being made to identify the body of a man found dead early today on the Old Spanish Trail, near Bruessard, in Lafayette Parish, La. Authorities said the man apparently was struck by an automobile and dragged some distance. His body was crushed and mangled. The man whose body was held at a local funeral parlor, is about five feet, two inches in height, weight about 145 pounds, appears to be about 55 years of age, and has long, reddish whiskers.

He was dressed in a blue coat, with gray trousers. There were no papers in his clothing or other means of identification.

Some Mississippi sales tax tokens were found in his pockets.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

(Dedicated to Mrs. Geo. L. Cuevas)

CREOLE cookery has held an individual place in the world for many years. These famous recipes are the merging of the customs of France, Spain, Mexico, the Choctaw Indians and old colored Mammies from New Orleans. Many of the dishes are made from small portions of a number of ingredients and the use of piquant sauces, in this way the housekeeper can easily use left-overs.

Creole Hash

Use equal parts of ground cooked meat and potatoes, some minced onion, chopped green pepper, salt and black pepper to taste. A dash of nutmeg is put in at the last. Cover and cook very slowly for 1 hour. Turn once and cook until the crust is crisp and tender like thin French pastry.

Meat Loaf

To 3 cups of cooked meat mix a small slice of suet, 1/2 cup of mushrooms, 1/2 teaspoon each of salt, pepper, allspice, 3 cloves and a dash of cayenne. Add the beaten yolks of 2 eggs and moisten with a little milk or gravy. Line the bottom of a baking dish with strips of bacon and fill with meat mixture. Dot on top with bits of butter. Bake 40 minutes in a rather hot oven.

Fig Fritters

Combine 1 cup of flour, sifted, with 1/2 teaspoon of baking powder, a pinch of salt, 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1 tablespoon of butter, 2 eggs and 1-3 cup each of cream and milk. Add the fruit last. Then have ready a kettle of deep very hot fat and drop the fritters in by tiny spoonfuls. They'll puff up and brown very nicely. Peel the figs, cut into pieces and sprinkle with sugar. Let stand for an hour. Add juice and fruit to the batter. Canned figs are equally good and, of course, need not be left to stand.

Lemon Fritters

Combine 1 cup of flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon baking powder, adding the beaten yolks of 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon of butter and 1 cup of water. Beat in 2-3 cup of sugar and the juice and rind of 1 lemon. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of 2 eggs. Fry in the same way as all fritters.

These fritters may be served the year round and give a pleasant acid flavor to the meat course.

Chicken Gumbo

Cut up a 4 or 5 lb. chicken and brown it in fat in a deep kettle along with a pound slice of ham. To this add 1 quart of diced carrot, fresh or canned, 1 quart of toma-

More Power To Them

Odin, Illinois, Aug. 22, 1936.

Enclosing a clipping from our St. Louis paper the Globe, Democrat. Congratulations to your Mr. "Red" Favre; we need a few more fighters just like him.

We in Illinois like your Senator Pat Harrison. I believe that my Dad had some of this same fighting blood in him that "Red" Favre displayed to Mr. Bilbo on the occasion of his visit to Bay St. Louis on Aug. 18. I hope that your Senator Pat Harrison will have the pleasure of serving the people of Mississippi again in Washington and every voter in Mississippi should be proud that they have a man as Pat Harrison. It takes us back to our John Sharp Williams. What a man was he!

More power to "Red" and Pat Harrison and I wish them success.

Yours very truly,

HORACE V. TOULME.

atoes, fresh or canned, 1 large onion, chopped, a bit of hot red pepper and the herbs—some parsley, bay leaf, thyme and a little horseradish root. Before you cover the pot for a long, gentle simmering add 2 quarts of water and salt to taste. Simmer for several hours, very gently, on low heat. Serve with quantities of hot, dry cooked rice.

Bean Croquettes

Take 2 cups of cooked beans, add salt and pepper to taste, 1 teaspoon vinegar and 1 tablespoon melted butter. Form into small balls, dip into beaten egg and roll in bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat and serve hot.

Pecan Cream Cake

Shop 3 cups of pecans almost as fine as meal.

1 1/2 cups of sugar
2 tablespoons of flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
6 eggs

Beat the yolks of the eggs well, add the sugar and beat again thoroughly. Mix the baking powder with the flour and nuts. Fold the eggs and flour mixture into the stiffly beaten egg whites. Then fold the eggs and sugar. Blend very gently and pour the mixture into 2 layer cake pans that have been lined with greased paper. Bake in an oven 375 degrees for 15 or 20 minutes, then remove them very carefully and let cool in pans. Just before served, spread whipped cream thickly between layers.

Creole Pralines

3 cups white sugar
1 cup water
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vinegar
3 cups pecans

Place sugar, water and vinegar in deep uot and boil to the soft ball stage. Add butter and 3 cups pecans. Continue to cook until syrup when dropped from the spoons spins a thread. Remove from fire and beat 1 minute; then drop by spoonfuls upon buttered boards or into well-greased old tea cup saucers, which will serve nicely to mold the candies.

Editorial By Fred Sullens of Jackson

News on the Result

While the Jackson Daily News, known for the brilliant and definite editorials by its editor, Col. Fred Sullens, circulates over a wide territory, there are many people not subscribers who would like to read the editorial following Senator Harrison's re-election of Senator Bilbo. It is here reproduced in full.

There is no use in analyzing Tuesday's election figures, insofar as the Senatorial result is concerned.

The people of Mississippi simply said by their votes "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

They paid little attention to the campaign of misrepresentation waged against Peerless Pat.

They expressed their gratitude for the wonderful services he has rendered to his people in Congress.

They placed the stamp of approval on the Democratic party, the New Deal and President Roosevelt.

They decided it would be absurd to remove from the President's side the man in whom he places such implicit trust, and to whom he looks for leadership in the Senate.

It was a hard fight, a bitter fight, and in many respects a dirty fight.

The campaign was replete with falsehoods and vituperation, hurled by all the mud batteries that could be organized against Peerless Pat, but to no avail.

Pat Harrison wins.

God granting him the grace to live, he will serve six more years in the Senate and has adorned with the brilliancy of other great Mississippians sent to that body in former years.

In view of the unwarranted attacks made by Conner on the character and personal integrity of Pat Harrison, it is sincerely to be hoped that the latter will not send one of those formal and utterly insincere telegrams congratulating the victor.

Tuesday's election was an event in which it is impossible to be magnanimous to the vanquished.

A cowardly, skunking and sniping warfare was waged against Pat Harrison from start to finish. No man in all the history of Mississippi politics was ever more outrageously lied about.

Other persons, many of them were also splattered with the mud, the filth and the slime of the Conner-Bilbo combat. For that they will carry just grievances in their hearts that can never be forgotten or forgiven.

"All's well that ends well."

Here are a few editorial squibs appearing in the same issue of The News:

A whole herd of nightmares were staged in the Dream House last night. Liston, Bilbo, never again can you bite the hand that fed you and get by with it.

"I'm going to bed happy," said President Roosevelt when he heard of the Harrison victory.

Bilbo couldn't even carry his home county, Pearl River, for his little Cry Baby—lost it by a big majority.

City Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois Seeks Re-election on Record

wishing to speak disparagingly of Commissioner Bourgeois' predecessors has never had a better collector. We find proof of this in this week's issue of The Echo where the delinquent—the shortest in many a year. That is, if it has ever been as short. There are only some thirty-six delinquents and the individual amounts are negligible.

Always a Busy Man
Commissioner Bourgeois has been a busy man all his life. Receiving his education in early life, he soon joined the ranks of breadwinners and ever since has applied himself to work in diligent manner. That diligence still applies. He is ever dutiful, conscientious and never lapses in the discharge of his duties, with a thorough conscientiousness that evokes and inspires satisfaction.

We like to deal with men in public life in whom we may unreservedly repose the utmost confidence; whose integrity we never question for a moment.

Figures to be Presented
Along with his associates Commissioner Bourgeois has proven an able executive, an administrator of public affairs with liberal vision for the future and with an economic conservatism that has helped not only to further build the city but to shape its affairs in such manner as to make the tax-payers and other residents feel the "community is safe in his hands," as has been quoted. At no time have the affairs of the city been in better shape. Its bonded indebtedness has been reduced and accumulated interest paid. This will no doubt be best reflected in the forthcoming official annual statement.

Therefore, no figures are published herewith. However, while this official statement will not be released until the early part of the month, according to law, after the election, The Echo has volunteered, for the public benefit, and a service it feels it owes to its subscribers—to publish shortly a resume of the annual statement—in terms and figures the people may easily understand and from which they may draw their own conclusions.

Mr. Bourgeois is a native of this section and perhaps no man locally is better known to the Coast and New Orleans public—the latter owning considerable property in Bay St. Louis. They communicate with his office, either by mail or at his office and they personally know who they are dealing with.

Although yet a comparative young man, he has had long years of experience. "The city's business is that of the public's," he says, "and must be handled for their very best interest." He is of the firm belief and lives the conviction that a "public office is a public trust." We commend his candidacy to the serious consideration of the voters of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. McCrackan had not heard from her brother in several years and had not seen him in 31 years. She had just gotten up from her bed of illness of three weeks when her brother N. B. Osborn, Mrs. Osborn and their daughter, Beulah Osborn, arrived Tuesday afternoon, August 18, 1936.

Sunday a reunion dinner was held at Mrs. McCrackan's home and those present were: Mrs. G. C. McCrackan, N. B. Osborn, Mrs. Osborn, Miss Beulah Osborn, Mrs. Ethel Sanford, daughter of Mrs. McCrackan, and three grandchildren, Ruth, Jack and Ora Lee Sanford. Mr. Andrew

Perkins Announces For Re-election To Office

er, a type that is truly representative, he is ever engaging and of a most likable personality.

Everybody likes "Grady," and the fact he has made such a splendid official and helped to give it both a business-like and economical administration, ought to prove a potent factor in the matter of his re-election. He is not of that type that believes in conserving every cent the city collects, for that would be of the tightwad variety. And a parsimonious policy always lands of the rocks. He has ever favored improvements within the bounds of the city's purse. He favors employment, local labor and there is never opportunity lost to give the local laborer employment. He has given the city waterworks plant, which comes under the head of his department, special attention. He reasons this is one of the city's most important departments—which it is. Plenty of pure drinking water and for other domestic purpose, with the proper pressure ever maintained, and an abundant supply of water in reserve with the proper pressure in case of emergency. This department has saved the city many costly fires and has been the means of returning the tax-payers their money paid for taxes over and over many times.

The city's interest, the welfare and protection of its people and the safeguarding of their property is ever uppermost in his mind. In this wise the city has been saved untold thousands of dollars in protecting property from fire.

He was one of the commissioners foremost in procuring federal aid from the government and the building of a sixty-odd thousand dollar gym and additional school rooms to Central School, along with his associates and City Supt. S. J. Ingram. Commissioner Perkins made repeated trips to Hattiesburg and Jackson in the interest of procuring the approval of the project unrelentingly, and it might be said at his own personal expense.

It is men of this type, who do for the city and its people, who can go anywhere and present their city's claim in formal manner and talk to a representative body of men. Hence, a man of this kind is deserving of the consideration of the voters and tax-payers. And we commend his candidacy.
